Regulation concerning grades on doctoral study programs

The University of Nova Gorica Senate approved additional study regulation, that the student may proceed to his doctoral dissertation defence only if he or she has obtained grade 8 or more in each subject taken within the respective study programme, the subjects being graded according to the existing Slovenian grading system from 1 to 10. This means that only those subjects in which the student has achieved at least 70% of the highest grade are recognised.

The changes in regulations were confirmed by the Senate of the University of Nova Gorica on November 7, 2012. The regulation is valid for all exams passed in academic year 2012/2013 or later.
