1.2 Getting to Nova Gorica, Slovenia

Slovenia is located in Central Europe, bordering Italy, Austria, Hungary and Croatia. It can be easily reached from all directions via various means of transport.

Arriving by plane
The Slovenian main airport, the Jože Pučnik Airport of Ljubljana (http://www.lju-airport.si), offers many connections to various destinations abroad. However, the nearest international airport to Nova Gorica is the Trieste Airport, located in Italy, near the Slovenian-Italian border (http://www.aeroporto.fvg.it). Two other airports in Italy – the Venice Airport (http://www.veniceairport.it), and the Treviso Airport (http://www.trevisoairport.it) might also be useful.

Arriving by car
Nova Gorica can easily be reached from all directions by motorway, as it is located along the H4 high-speed road/motorway leading from Ljubljana to Italy – Udine and further to Venice. A vignette is obligatory to be able to use Slovenian motorways. Vignettes can be bought in certain larger shops and at petrol stations. There are 24-hour service stations and petrol stations along the motorways approximately every 30 km. They are also common in cities and in smaller towns.

Arriving by coach or train
There are frequent coach connections between the capital, Ljubljana, and Nova Gorica. For the timetable, refer to the website of the main coach operator: http://www.ap-ljubljana.si/en/. Moreover, the Eurolines international coach operator (http://www.eurolines.com/en/) offers various international connections with stopovers in Slovenia. For train connections to/from Nova Gorica, check the national operator’s website http://www.slozeleznice.si. Since the main train station of the town of Gorizia (Italy) is located only about 2 km away from Nova Gorica, it is also worth checking connections to Gorizia on the website of the main Italian railway operator (http://www.trenitaliaplus.com). If travelling from Germany, Austria and other Central European countries, also check the international connections offered by the German railway operator (http://www.bahn.de/).

Public city transport in Nova Gorica
The town of Nova Gorica and its suburbs are connected by a network of free public buses.
1.3 How to reach our campuses

UNG comprises three campuses, all of them being located in the Goriška region. 5.1 Basic facts about Slovenia

Slovenia is a country in Central Europe, a member of the European union, with the population of approximately 2 million people and an area of 20,273 square kilometers. It lies between the Alps and the Adriatic Sea, bordering Austria on the north, Hungary on the north-east, Croatia on the south-east and Italy on the west. The country is known for its natural beauties and diverse landscape, ranging from high snow-capped mountains and ski resorts, to the charming Mediterranean coastal towns and sea resorts, mysterious underground caves, vast areas of unspoilt nature, dense forests, rolling hills covered in vineyards and lowlands dotted with picturesque villages.

In the Goriška region, where Nova Gorica, Ajdovščina and Vipava are situated, the climate is sub-Mediterranean with hot summers and mild winters. However, the Vipava Valley, especially the town of Ajdovščina is known for the Bora (Slovene: Burja) wind, which is extremely strong and, particularly in winter, gives the impression of greater cold.

5.2 The Goriška region

The University of Nova Gorica is located in the Goriška region, in western Slovenia, bordering Italy. In most of the region, the climate is sub-Mediterranean, while in the north, there are the mountains, the Alps and thus the climate is (sub-) Alpine. The region is known for its beautiful nature, especially the famous Soča Valley with its emerald river, Soča. The unspoilt forests of the Trnovska planota plateau also attract many nature lovers, while the hilly Brda area and the Vipava Valley, two famous winegrowing areas, boast with their excellent wines, fruit and vegetables production, and charming traditional towns and villages. The region has a rich history and marked the history especially in World War I, as this is where the Soča/ISONZO Front took place.

Nova Gorica
Nova Gorica is the largest town in the Goriška region and the region’s main economic, cultural and administrative centre. It is situated along the Slovenian-Italian border, forming a common urban area with the adjacent Italian town of Gorizia. Nova Gorica is a young and lively town with interesting history. Nowadays it attracts students, the young population in general, and numerous tourists, who find this vibrant young town a perfect destination and a starting point for trips into the Soča valley, to the Alps, or to Italy.

Ajdovščina
Ajdovščina is a small town in the heart of the Vipava Valley. It was founded about 2,000 years ago by the Romans, and the Roman remains are still present – the most remarkable are the preserved Roman fortresses. The town is surrounded by the hills of the Trnovska planota plateau on the north and a low hilly area on the south. This part of the Vipava Valley is known for wine- and fruit-growing.

Vipava
Vipava is a picturesque small town in the Vipava Valley, dominated by the interesting ruins of the castle sitting on the hill above the town and surrounded by vineyards and fields. The town is the local viticultural and enological centre. Moreover, it is also known for its attractive Mediterranean architecture. Student meals for international students During your stay at UNG as an international student, you will be entitled to buy meals at extremely reduced prices, since the Slovene government subsidises (co-finances) student meals. Normally, you can get the whole daily menu offer. Other dishes can be ordered too, but extra charges may apply for that, so ask in advance. A student meal system enables the students to pay at reduced prices at special terminals at cash desks in many restaurants across Slovenia. To activate your personal account in this system, which works all over Slovenia, you have to own a mobile phone with a SIM card of one of the Slovene national operators or you have to buy a special chip card.

The list of the restaurants offering student meals is available at: http://www.studentska-prehrana.si.

You can only activate your account at the Students Organisation Klub goriških študentov (KGŠ). If you wish to register into the system at the KGŠ Students’ Organisation office you have to show a personal document and a certificate proving that you are an exchange student at the University of Nova Gorica. This certificate will be given to you by the UNG Student Office and it will contain your student identification number.

Klub goriških študentov
Trg Edvarda Kardelja 1
5000 Nova Gorica, Slovenia
http://www.kgs.si

Please remember that you cannot have subsidised meals in any restaurant or bar. For more information please refer to the the KGŠ Students’ Organisation office.

Sports and recreation
UNG does not own any sports facilities, but there are various public and private facilities in Nova Gorica, Ajdovščina and Vipava.

Going out – restaurants, pubs, clubs, etc.
In Nova Gorica, as well as in Ajdovščina and Vipava, most of the restaurants and pubs are located on or around the main town squares. However, in the near vicinity of Nova Gorica you will find pleasant restaurants, such as Žogica or Primula in Solkan. In Ajdovščina, there is a nice traditional inn with good food at the source of the Hubelj river. In Vipava you will find nice restaurants in the little alleys of the old town. Another option is the Vipavski hram restaurant, located on the premises of the local wine-tery. The so-called »tourist farms« in the villages around Nova Gorica, Ajdovščina and Vipava are also known for culinary delights and excellent wines. In Nova Gorica, the club called Square is probably the most popular with the young. The adjacent town of Gorizia in Italy also offers some good pubs, clubs and restaurants. There are also many open-air festivals and concerts in the Goriška region and it is best to consult the local Tourist Board for the updated information on the upcoming events.

7.4 Student working permit

Students can look for temporary jobs through a very well-developed network of student employment agencies. Temporary work of students and pupils does not require contracts or have other implications regular employment would have. Payment is per hour, per project or per effect in sales, but the company does not need to pay social or other fees for this type of employment.

To be able to undertake temporary work, international students must possess a valid residence permit and the status of a student or pupil at a Slovene higher education institution or high school in the current academic year. Many international students and pupils find work through the student employment agencies. Such agencies, e-Študenski servis for instance, provide assistance to students also for issues that are not work-related (source: http://www.slovenia.si/study/living/permits/).

7.5 Grading system used by universities in Slovenia

To assess the students’ knowledge and achievements, the universities in Slovenia use a six-level grading scale from 1 to 10. The passing grades are from 6 to 10, while the failing grades range from 1 to 5.

Grading scale:

- 10 excellent (best possible grade)
- 9 very good
- 8 very good
- 7 good
- 6 sufficient (lowest passing grade)
- 5 or lower (failing grades)

Seminars are graded on pass/fail basis. Final work (diploma, master diploma or doctoral dissertation) are assessed by one of the two following decisions: “successful” or “not successful”.

The study programmes are evaluated with ECTS (European Credit Transfer System) credit points. This allows the students to enter other comparable ECTS-accredited study programmes across Europe during or after completing their studies at a study programme in Slovenia. The University of Nova Gorica strongly encourages the participation of students in mobility/exchange programmes.

The students accumulate 60 ECTS each academic year and in order to proceed to the next year of study, they must obtain a certain number of credit points. To successfully complete the studies, the students are required to have successfully completed all the required exams, the research/project work and/or practical placement required by the study programme, and to successfully defense the final thesis.

7.6 Information for students – athletes

The University of Nova Gorica offers special schemes of studies for athletes, which are tailored to their needs and helps the athletes manage both their sports careers and studies. We are the first university in Slovenia to offer the status of athlete to all athletes who are registered as competitors, take part in competitions and achieve notable sports results. Acquiring the status of an athlete as defined by the National Olympic Committee is not a prerequisite for obtaining the status of athlete at our university.

Studying in small groups, an excellent professor–student ratio and opportunities for distance learning enable us flexibility in terms of offering athletes favourable conditions of studies and tailoring the studies to the athletes’ needs. Studies are tailored to the specific needs of individual students – athletes and their coaches. The modifications to a certain extent depend on the selected study programme (for instance, the amount of mandatory practical classes). Certain students–athletes might be exempt from attending lectures, allowed to choose groups for practice sessions, and might adapt exam dates, deadlines for seminar papers or reports, while others might be allowed to be absent for a longer period of time during the academic year.

The mild climate of the Goriška region offers favourable conditions for training in winter as well, if compared to other arts of Slovenia, when training in winter months may be difficult. The excellent location of the town of Nova Gorica, near the hills and, on the other hand, the Adriatic coast, and the town’s quality sports infrastructure offer many opportunities for practising various sports activities.

The University of Nova Gorica also cooperates with local sports clubs and organisations on a long-term basis and thus helps promote sports and increase the general public’s awareness of the importance of education for athletes.
